The Cove

When Harold Kopljar opened The Lodge of Four Seasons in 1964 he had a vision of offering the greatest resort in the mid-west. He knew that the greatest resort would require a golf course designed by one of the greatest golf architects. He hired the legendary Robert Trent Jones Sr. to design The Lodge's signature golf course. The Cove opened in 1973 and has challenged golfers of all skill levels ever since.

With 72 bunkers, rolling hills, and water coming into play on 9 of the holes, this par-71 course is anything but tame. The four sets of tees tip out at 6,553 yards, but start at 5,172 so players of all abilities can enjoy this classic design. In typical RTJ fashion, The Cove is a target golf course putting an emphasis on getting the ball in play off of the tee.

Every golfer will leave with a memory of hole 4, our signature par-3. Whether you tee it up from the red tees at 110 yards, or let it rip from the 230 yard blue tees, it's all carry over from The Lake's famed "Witch's Cove". The Cove's classic design and breathtaking views of the lake leave golfers wanting another shot at this legendary golf course.

The Ridge

Any true golf resort should offer more than 18 holes. The Lodge realized this and opened The Ridge in 1991 to offer a true golf resort experience unparalleled in the mid-west. Given that The Cove already offered a classic design to The Lodge's guests, the goal of The Ridge was to offer a resort style course that all players could enjoy. Golf course architect Ken Kavanaugh more than succeeded with his brilliant use of the natural terrain.

Many golfers refer to the course's altitude drops and generous landing areas as "player-friendly". This par-72 course offers rolling hills, natural rock outcroppings, native wildflowers, and beautiful views of The Lake. With four sets of tees ranging from 4,617 to 6,447 yards, The Ridge offers a challenging layout for golfers of all skill levels.

group of people playing golf

Hole 6 will undoubtedly leave golfers scratching their heads, wondering what they could have done better. This long, narrow hole is often referred to as the hardest par-5 in Missouri. When it's all said and done golfers leave The Ridge with a smile, remembering a course like no other in the mid-west.

1. Life jackets must be accessible for every person on board a watercraft. Children under the age of seven must wear a life jacket at all times while on board a watercraft. All persons must wear a life jacket when on a PWC.
2. Navigation lights are required on all boats underway between sunset and sunrise.
3. Proper ventilation is required of every vessel.
4. Fire extinguishers are required equipment on all motorized watercraft carrying or using flammable or toxic fluid such as gasoline or propane.

6. The operator of any boat being used for towing a person on water skis, inner tube or similar device must have another person aboard the vessel, seated in a position so as to observe the progress of the person or persons being towed unless the vessel is equipped with a ski mirror approved by the Missouri State Water Patrol, mounted so that the progress of the skier can be observed by the operator. Safety on the Water

The Lake of the Ozarks is a growing resort area with a myriad of activities that promise to make every family member's vacation a happy memory. For those who plan on spending time on the water, here are some courtesy and safety tips that will ensure everyone a great time:

1. Be aware of those around you.
Drive on the right side of the channel or cove.
Look before you turn.
All boats have the responsibility to take whatever action necessary to avoid a collision or accident.
2. Wear a Coast Guard approved life jacket while water skiing and while operating a personal watercraft. Small children or non-swimmers should wear life jackets at all times anywhere near or on the water.
3. Turn your lights on 30 minutes before sunset.
4. Operate your boat at a safe & prudent speed.
5. Newer boats have a safety cut off switch. Use it.
6. Upon refueling, check your engine compartment for spillage. Use your blower to expel fumes.
7. Get a voluntary inspection of your boat. The Water Patrol and the Coast Guard Auxiliary provides this free of charge.
8. Take a boating safety course. (Available through the Water Patrol, the Coast Guard Auxiliary and the Power Squadron, and online at www.boated.com.)
Remember, experience is not always the best teacher.
9. Consideration should be given to equipping your boat with a marine radio or cellular phone.
10. Don't drink and drive. A designated driver is as important on the water as on the land.
